

Listen to this quote about our speaker:

"He is hands down the most talented and effective facilitator with whom I have ever worked."

That's from the CEO of the United Way Worldwide.

How about this one: "Best facilitator I've ever seen."

That was spoken by, get this, the CEO of Shell Oil, the CEO of UPS, AND Maynard Jackson, the former Mayor of Atlanta.

So, who IS this guy?

Well, they call him Michael the Facilitator.

- He is the founder of Leadership Strategies, the largest professional facilitation company in the nation.
- He is the writer of seven books on facilitation, including the 8 Core Practices of Facilitative Leaders.
- And he is a member of the International Facilitation Hall of Fame.

Since learning about the power of facilitation 30 years ago, he has helped leaders from organizations around the globe use facilitation to achieve amazing results, including the largest construction company in Australia, a UK car auction company, and the government of Jamaica to create their 10-year strategic plan.

Michael is THE knowledge source when it comes to leadership through facilitation, so let's hear from him.
